General Association of Retired Professionals

Who are we?

AGIRabcd, a French NGO recognized by the French Government as an Association of Public Interest according to the French law of 1901, a non-profit association created in 1983

- with 2 500 members, volunteer retired professionals from all socio-professional categories and all sectors of activity,
- putting into practice the transfer of a wide variety of skills to persons of all ages in need of assistance in France and worldwide,
- working in partnership with public and private institutions, local communities and associations, businesses and social centers,
- represented by 96 regional branches in France and its overseas territories and in 20 other countries.

Our objectives

In France :

To promote the professional and social integration of all individuals by helping them to become autonomous (mastery of the French language, computer literacy, mobility), coaching for job-searching, assistance in the creation of small businesses and solidarity with dependent elderly persons and individuals in difficulty.

Worldwide :

To contribute to economic, cultural, social and health development within the context of the 17 Objectives for Durable Development adopted and promoted by the United Nations by the transmission of professional skills to a variety of applicants through :

- one-time missions in specific areas of specialty
- co-development projects with the collaboration of many specialists from different domains of expertise.

Our values

In accordance with our Charter:

- mutual respect, apolitical and secular
- on-site interventions designed to help populations in difficulty to implicate themselves in their own development
- assistance in the creation of jobs without replacing regular paid employees
- volunteer specialists who receive no financial remuneration. Applicants make only a contribution to administrative expenses.
